

Count your cash
in 60 seconds

Introducing T-i<sup>x</sup> Intelligent Cash Counting

Tellermate help businesses round the world count and manage their cash quickly and accurately.

Counting cash remains a crucial activity in the retail, restaurant, and banking industries. In fact, any business that takes cash payments knows how important it is to streamline cash management. As pioneers in count-by-weight technology, Tellermate have developed our range of cash counting machine to help.

Tellermate cash counters are able to accurately count the entire contents of a cash drawer in 60 seconds or less, making them an essential tool for any business that handles cash. By handling bills, coins and other media they have become an essential fixture in the cash office. Whether you're counting daily takings, investigating incidents of cash loss, or preparing bank deposits, Tellermate cash counters are a must-have tool for your business.

The T-i<sup>x</sup> cash counter range has been developed for ease of use. A large keypad and clear display makes the device a dream to use. An intuitive menu structure allows users to navigate quickly with minimal disruption. And the cash counter is light, portable and tough, making it perfect for the demanding cash handling environment.

Tellermate work closely with coin and bill issuing authorities to ensure that our cash counting machines are capable of dealing with any coming changes. And our R&D and engineering teams are constantly working with our customers to understand the demands of the market. Finally, we'll work with you and your team to understand your processes and how we can build a business case together. So you can be sure that a Tellermate cash counter is a future-proof purchase. We're people you can count on.

Reduce your cash counting time and tackle cash loss

Save time

With a T-i<sup>x</sup> cash counting machine you can reduce the time taken to count cash by up to 70%. This reduction in cash handling activities results in reduced labour hours and potential savings for the business. Through a more streamlined process, staff are able to spend less time with counting cash and more time with customers or revenue generating activities.

Reduce cash loss

By providing detailed and accurate counts of your cash, the T-i<sup>x</sup> offers businesses a tool to combat cash loss. And with the ability to generate cash data and perform spot checks throughout the day, your cash is given an extra layer of security. It's your secret weapon against cash miscounts and inaccurate bank deposits.

Rapid ROI

The T-i<sup>x</sup> is able to dramatically save your business time and money. And it can streamline and simplify your cash handling activities. Its robust design, powerful features and incredible long-term performance means that the TellerMate cash counter will prove its worth very quickly with a rapid ROI for any business.
